

MAY PROVE A MURDER.

Police Think Kelly Threw His Wife from a Window.

Picked Up Unconscious, with Her Arm Torn from the Socket.

Her Little Brother Says There Was a Fight Just Before.

Capt. Kelly and the police of the East Fifty-first street station are investigating a case that may prove wife murder.

Mrs. Julia Kelly, twenty-four years old, was found lying in a pool of blood in front of her home, 231 East Fifty-first street, at 11 o'clock last night. Her left arm had been torn from its socket and hung to her body by the shreds of flesh.

The woman was unconscious, and had evidently suffered internal injuries besides.

Policemen Schuling and Tencard found the woman, and five minutes later placed her husband, George, twenty-six years old, under arrest. It is believed he threw his wife from the window.

The attention of the policemen was called to the woman by the cries of a boy from the second-story window of the house. While Schuling went to summon an ambulance from the Presbyterian Hospital, Tencard rushed into the house.

In a front room on the second floor he found George Kelly, the husband of the woman. His appearance showed evidences of a struggle. The collar had been torn from his coat, his shirt was bloody and his face was a mass of blood and scratches. He was greatly excited.

"My wife must have fallen from the window," he cried as the policeman entered.

There was also in the room a ten-year-old boy who said he was Willie Clancy, a brother of Mrs. Kelly. After Kelly had been placed under arrest the boy told a story that reflected strongly against the man.

He had been staying a few days with his sister, he said. Retiring early last night he had left Kelly and his wife in the adjoining sitting-room, which faces the street. They were playing cards.

Just after 10 o'clock the boy was awakened by loud voices. In the sitting-room, he could see from where he lay, Kelly and his wife were quarreling; then he saw the man strike Mrs. Kelly several times. The boy did not get out of bed, because, he said, he was afraid, but he cried to Kelly to stop beating his sister.

Then, according to the boy's story, Kelly clutched his wife by the throat, and they moved away from the door where they had been standing and Willie could not see them. But for several minutes the sounds of the struggle went on, until there was a loud cry from the woman. After that all was still.

It must have been ten minutes after that, the boy thought, while he still lay trembling. Kelly came up to his bed. He was crying, and he said: "Where is Julia; where is my wife?"

Then Willie got up and went into the next room. His sister was wide open, and looking out he saw somebody lying on the pavement. He shouted for help, and the policeman came.

Kelly refused to make any statement after the boy had told his story. At the Presbyterian Hospital the woman remained unconscious.

The police believe that Kelly threw the woman out of the window, but held on to her by the arm and that her weight tore her arm from the socket.

After Kelly's arrest the police sent his five-year-old child, Julia, to the Gerry Society's room. The child had been asleep in another room during the fight between mother and father.

Policeman Tencard said that the woman recovered her senses for a moment as she was lying on the sidewalk waiting the ambulance. In answer to his question about herself, she only said, "I fell."

NEW FIRE-BOAT PIER.

New Yorker to Tie Up Further Away from the Aquarium.

The landing place for the fireboat New Yorker will be permanently located at a pier which is being constructed 100 feet north of the vessel's present wharf at the sea wall off the Casino.

Permission was secured from the Secretary of War to change the site of the pier for that purpose. The Park, Fire and Dock Department representatives had a conference to decide on a new location for the boat. The Park Department wanted the pier removed, because it would obstruct the view from the Aquarium, but as the Dock Department could not furnish a more convenient berth the new site was agreed upon.

It is the extreme westerly point of the Battery sea wall, but the only advantage that will be gained by the change is that the unsightly structure will be 100 feet further away from the Aquarium.

WORLD'S FAIR DIVIDEND.

Stockholders Will Be Paid 10 Per Cent. on Saturday Next.

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, June 6.—World's Fair stockholders will receive their dividend on stock by Saturday morning's mail. The clerks in Mr. Higginbotham's office, who have been paying the dividends for a month to pay the 10 per cent. dividend, finished yesterday. They wrote 22,021 checks, ranging from $1 to $25.

The total of the amounts to be paid is a little more than $700,000. The largest amount is $245,596.29, which goes to the city of Chicago, being the 10 per cent. dividend on the city's $5,000,000 stock, less $254,403.71, which the Exposition Company advanced for the Hyde Park pumping works and the police station. The next largest check was for $12,641, made to the order of the Field Columbian Museum. This represented the dividend on $126,410 of stock donated to the Museum.

WAS CAIN DROWNED?

He Escaped from the Workhouse and Has Not Been Seen Since.

The body of James Cain, who is believed to have been drowned in the East River Monday afternoon while trying to escape from the workhouse on Randall's Island, has not yet been recovered.

Cain was sent up two months ago by Justice McMahon for ill treating his wife, who keeps a little candy store at 6 Clarkson street. He had four months more to serve. His wife received a letter from him a few days ago in which he complained that the workhouse was a "perfect hell on earth," and begged her to get him released.

The keepers who saw him disappear say he must have been drowned, but Mrs. Cain and her friends think he is only shamming and will turn up again.

A wholesale dealer, the original dealer of Cain's candy, is now in a bad way. He is a well-known figure in the neighborhood. MILLMAN, 128 Broadway.

IS SURE HE WAS DOSED.

Ex-County Clerk Butler's Queer Ginger Ale.

He Grew Groggy, Lost $20 and Had Lawyer Holt Locked Up.

William Butler, County Clerk from 1879 to 1882, living at 235 East Thirty-fifth street and now engaged in the real estate business, believes he was the victim of "knockout" drops on Monday afternoon, when he was robbed of $20.

He appeared at Yorkville Police Court this morning as complainant against Frank Alth, alias William Holt, twenty-two years old, who gave his address as 300 Third avenue.

Mr. Butler said that Monday afternoon he and Dr. La Plase, of East Twenty-seventh street, were at the Hotel "We each had two glasses of beer, and that's all," said Mr. Butler. "I'm sure, Judge, that this was not enough to make me drunk. I left the doctor shortly before 6 P. M., and on my way home became ill. On reaching Third avenue and Twenty-eighth street, I entered the saloon there and got a glass of ginger ale. I no sooner had it down than I felt my senses leaving me, and am positive that either the bartender or the prisoner dropped something in my drink. I had at that time upward of $10 in my coat pocket and $25 in my trousers pocket."

I'm paying for the drink Mr. Butler said he remembered pulling out the $20 roll. He staggered out to get air. The prisoner, he said, was in the saloon and stood near him.

On reaching the sidewalk, Mr. Butler sat down on a bootblack's stand. When he tried to get up he was too weak to do so. The prisoner, who had followed him, aided him to his feet and assisted him along the street.

Mr. Butler got home, he does not remember how, and when he regained consciousness the $20 was gone. He was sure Holt took the money, as he remembered feeling a hand in his pocket as he went to bed.

Holt was remanded for trial. When Holt was arrested, Inspector McLaughlin recognized him as having been arrested twice for larceny.

KILLED BY A ROBBER.

A Ransom, Ill., Merchant Shot in His Store.

(By Associated Press.)

RANSOM, Ill., June 6.—E. O. Whitmore, one of the heaviest business men in this part of the State, was shot and killed by a robber on Monday night last.

As Whitmore was about to close his store, two men entered, and, showing revolvers, ordered Whitmore and his brother, who was also in the store, to throw up their hands.

The brother obeyed, but when Whitmore started for the men with a heavy iron bar, one of them fired, the ball going through Whitmore's heart. The murderer and his companion escaped.

A NERVY JAIL-BREAKER.

Locks a Maryland Sheriff in a Cell and Takes to the Woods.

(By Associated Press.)

OAKLAND, Md., June 6.—Sheriff Charles Wegmann entered the jail yesterday to repair a cot in one of the cells. While at work Albert Overover, a serving time for the crime of a notorious assault, closed the door on the Sheriff and locked him in.

The keeper walked out of the jail and took to the woods.

MARBLE-CUTTERS ARE FIRM.

They Will Not Handle Imported Stone on Gerry's Building.

Strike on the Third Avenue Structure Will Be Settled To-Day.

The strike on ex-Commodore Eldridge T. Gerry's mansion, Sixty-first street and Fifth avenue, on account of the use of imported marble is still on. No overtures looking towards a settlement had been made to the strikers by Alford & Sons up to noon, and Wednesday Delegate McGale, of the Marble-Cutters' Union, said that no settlement was possible until this firm gave a written guarantee that no imported marble should be used for the mantelpieces in the building.

Besides the six French non-union ornamental iron-workers who were again engaged this morning in completing the porte-cochere, there were two men of the Free Stone and Brownstone Cutters Union at work on the building. This Union does not belong to the Trades Unions Conference of New York, and the men are consequently not under the control of the Board of Working Delegates.

The two union painters who entered the building yesterday did so only for the purpose of getting their overalls and brushes, which they had left there when the strike was declared. There are now only three carpenters on strike.

Of the sixty men who struck yesterday on the building near the northwest corner of Fifty-ninth street and Third avenue, all but three carpenters have returned to work. The latter grievance consists of the claim that they are entitled to lay the finished floor, a right which is disputed by the framemakers.

These conflicting claims will be settled this afternoon at a meeting of the Board of Working Delegates, after which it is expected that the carpenters will return to work.

230 CHINESE SNEAKED IN.

The Midwinter Fair Opened a New Gateway to the Celestials.

(By Associated Press.)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—The craft and cunning of the Chinese of this city have once more circumvented the Federal authorities and the exclusion laws, and as a result of the privileges extended to them by Congress in connection with the Mid-Winter Fair the Celestial population in this country has been swelled by the addition of another ship-load of laborers, who have had six months in which to scatter and conceal themselves.

Special Agent Phoenix, acting under instructions from the Treasury Department, has visited the Chinese Village and discovered that out of the 237 Chinese originally landed all but twenty-seven had levanted. There is little doubt each one of the 230 laborers who have thus slipped into the country is now safely registered with years of residence in the United States backed up by a score of witnesses. The same means something like $50,000 into the pockets of the Chinese Company.

WON'T PERMIT SUN DANCE.

Montana's Governor Prohibits the Cree Indian Festival.

(By Associated Press.)

HELENA, Mont., June 6.—Gov. Rickards has issued a proclamation prohibiting the sun dance of the Cree Indians at Great Falls. The proclamation says: "Investigation into the character of the festival convinced me that it is not only inhuman and brutalizing, but unnatural and indecent, and therefore abhorrent to the civilization of this country, but that its aims and purposes are a menace to peace and the welfare of communities, inasmuch as it is an initial ceremony that inducts Indians into ranks of reorganized warriors. Local authorities of this country are directed to take steps necessary to enforce inhibition."

M'GOWAN'S CURIOUS SUIT.

He Claims to Have Been the Victim of Skin-Grafting Doctors.

(By Associated Press.)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—Michael McGowan, a banker who came here from Butte, Mont., and was subsequently treated in the City Hospital for an ulcerated ankle, has begun suit against the city for $25,000 damages.

His claim is that the hospital surgeons placed him under the influence of a powerful anesthetic, and, without his knowledge or consent, cut from his thighs seven strips of skin, 1-1/2 inches wide and from 4 to 8 inches long, which were used in a skin-grafting operation upon the faces of a Frenchman and a French woman who had been badly burned.

McGowan, in his complaint recites the facts that the Frenchman claims to be "half French and half Irish," and has taunted him on account of his misfortune.

Mrs. Emma McWhinney, of 22 Beacon avenue, Jersey City, notified the New York police this morning that her son John, eleven years old, had been missing since last Saturday from August Whitlock's boarding school in Wilton, Conn. He and another boy, Maurice Nicholas, fourteen years old, who lives in Bayonne, N. J., left the school at 2 o'clock in the morning of that day. It is said that they intended to go fishing in a neighboring stream, and it is feared that both were drowned.

He is described as having light hair, blue eyes, wore gray clothes, bicycle cap, and carried a silver watch and chain.

WILL FIGHT IT OUT.

Stanford Estate to Sternly Resist the Government Claim.

Suit's Success May, It Is Said, Leave the Widow Penniless.

And Might Even Be the Ruin of the Stanford University.

(By Associated Press.)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—The claim for $15,000,000, filed against the Stanford estate by Attorney General Olney, as a preliminary step to force the Government's claim against the original holders of the Central Pacific grant, has caused the greatest excitement.

It is now learned that the Government's claim was presented May 28, but that an attempt was made to keep the proceeding secret in order that the financial operations of the estate need not be embarrassed.

The late Senator Stanford's estate was recently appraised at $17,000,000. Since the appraisement heavy obligations have been met, and it is stated now that the enforcement of the Government claim would practically wipe out the estate, not only leaving the widow penniless, but cutting off all the beneficiaries under the late Senator's will, including the endowment of $2,500,000 to the Stanford University.

It is even said that the estate, after the liquidation of its acknowledged debts, may not equal the amount of the claim of the Government. In this event, Senator Stanford's deed of trust, under which Stanford University was founded, would not stand, in case the decision of the courts should be in favor of the Government. The estate would then necessarily be sacrificed to satisfy the judgment.

Mrs. Stanford, in an interview, has stated that the Government's claim will be related to the fullest extent of her ability. She regards the proceedings in the nature of a test case, and was not surprised at the filing of the claim. Further than these statements she would not talk.

An idea of the probable defense was given last night by Mr. Wilson, Mrs. Stanford's attorney. In an interview he said: "The opinion of the Attorney-General of the United States is entitled to a great deal of consideration, but he is proceeding on a wrong assumption. I am free to say that I do not think the Government will ever be able to collect anything from the estate of the late Leland Stanford."

"The Government issued the bonds to aid in the construction of the Central Pacific Railroad, but neither Mr. Stanford nor any one else ever agreed to pay the Government back. The bonds operate as a second mortgage. It is not a debt, and while the Attorney-General is perfectly right that in California the members of a corporation are personally responsible for the debts of a corporation, he is wrong in assuming that the mortgage is a debt."

William F. Harris, the Railroad Company's chief counsel, gave a similar expression of opinion.

Larchmont's Election.

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., June 6.—An election for village officers at Larchmont was held yesterday with the following result: President, arsten Wendt, one year; Trustee, W. H. Campbell, two years; Treasurer, Joseph Bird, one year; Collector, Charles A. Singer, one year. The last two made known the officers were sworn in by Clerk Marmaduke Tilden and the Trustees held a meeting and re-elected Tilden Clerk for one year.

HIS GIANT MONKEY DIED.

Capt. Alm Arrives with the Skin Only of His 6000 Purchase.

Capt. Alm, of the German bark Elisabeth, Ahrens, which arrived to-day from Mauritius, had hard luck on his last voyage. The winds and the waves were all right, but the skipper is $500 out on an orang-utang deal in which he engaged at Singapore.

Capt. Alm bought an enormous orang-utang from an animal dealer there, intended up to bring the beast to New York and sell him at a profit. The price paid for the animal, which was said to be seventy-five years old, and so savage that several men were killed during his capture in Borneo, was $600.

A big iron-barred cage was rigged up in the hold, and the giant monkey was safely locked up. On reaching Mauritius, the orang-utang was taken sick with pneumonia, and died in a few days.

Capt. Alm sent the body ashore and had a taxidermist stuff the skin. That is all he has left of his $600 worth of monkey.
